

The Charity Run will be followed by a panel discussion from 09:00 to 10:30, open to all. This will be the opportunity to meet experts and to look at scientific posters which are particularly accessible to a wide audience.

Participants are invited to donate at their own discretion to support a local children's charity project. To create a feeling of community among all participants, we also encourage everyone to wear blue on that particular day! Blue ISPAD T-shirts will be sold at the ISPAD Networking Space during the entire conference. Income from T-shirt sales will be added to the donations and given to a local children's charity.
