

COMMITMENTS

We are delighted to welcome you to The International Symposium of Institut Curie in Paris.

The organizing committee is committed to an eco-responsible symposium! Indeed, the organizers have taken initiatives to minimize the negative impacts of holding the event.

- Travel conscientiously by choosing low-carbon modes of travel. Find out the quantity of CO₂ you emit for your visit to the congress on the site <https://monimpacttransport.fr/>
- Use soft mobility for your travel during your stay: public transport common <https://www.ratp.fr/> or cycling <https://www.velib-metropole.fr/>
- Vegetarian options are offered every day and the products are local and seasonal.
- We were able to anticipate quantities and avoid food waste as much as possible thanks to the questions in the registration form for all Lunches and Cocktails.
- The caterer of the Symposium works with the association "Saver" to distribute the uneaten foodstuffs.
- The International Symposium of Institut Curie collects the badge holders at the end of the congress to recycle them.
- For the industrial exhibition, we use recyclable carpet.
- We advise you to print your badge in black and white to avoid too much color printing.
- Service providers are selected according to a responsible purchasing charter.
- We invite exhibitors to support the sustainable directions taken during The International Symposium by distributing a guide to good practices for operating their stand.
- We ensure the security of the site where people will be responsible for ensuring the proper safety of all.
- In addition, when you register, we are keen to know if you need the less assistance during the event.
- A code of good conduct is sent to everyone with the aim of promoting an event where the mutual respect is essential.
